Business Process Management

Ashunya: The “Must – Have” Business Card

Ashunya Inc. provides software to automate complex, changing business processes. Ashunya, through its unified process and rules technology, gives business people and IT departments the ability to use best processes across the enterprise and outperform their competition.

Our new class of Business Process Management (BPM) technology makes customers' enterprise systems easy to use and easy to change. By replacing policy manuals, system specifications and lines of manual coding with dynamically responsive updates, Ashunya powers the world's most sophisticated organizations to "build for change".

Ashunya's standards-based BPM suite is complemented with best-practice solution frameworks to help leaders in the financial services, insurance, healthcare, manufacturing and government markets drive growth and productivity.

" Ashunya allows you to deliver personalized and responsive service, while at the same time, automating specific processes and driving value from your back-end systems."

Enhance Your Client's Experience (through intent driven process automation)

- Directly align strategic goals with operational objectives
- Automate the end-to-end execution, management and reporting required for Six Sigma implementations or any other structured, project portfolio management methodologies (which includes processes and software)
- Process automation and systems integration (such as data retrieval from multiple systems), minimizes manual work and non-customer facing activities
- Manage processes and goals centrally, while allowing your business units the flexibility to identify solutions which meet their needs
